Introduction

The healthcare industry has gained momentum over last few years and is likely to continue to grow at a significant pace in years to come. We must continue to focus on making the high quality healthcare affordable and accessible to all within India and beyond our frontiers.

Karnataka state is one of the pioneer states in the country in providing comprehensive public health services to its people. Even before the concept of Primary Health Centers was conceived by the government of India, the state had already made a beginning in establishing a number of PHU's for providing comprehensive Health Care, and a delivery system consisting of curative, preventive, promotive and rehabilitation health care, to the people of the state. "HEALTH" is an asset to every person.

The State strives to be one of the top States in the country in terms of various reproductive and child health (RCH) indicators. The State has a vision for radical improvement in basic health indicators through a re-haul of delivery systems.
