About the Conclave

The private security industry is a crucial component of security and safety in all parts of the world and it has increased its role in protecting critical infrastructure and providing other security-related services. Today, private security is responsible not only for protecting critical infrastructure systems, but also for protecting intellectual property and sensitive corporate information. Business establishments also rely heavily on private security for a wide range of functions, including protecting employees and property, site security, cash logistics operations, conducting investigations, providing information technology security, and many other functions.

With this backdrop, FICCI is organising the fifth edition of Private Security Industry Conclave (PSIC) 2017 on November 10, 2017 at FICCI, New Delhi. The objective of the conclave is to bring together experts from the Government, Industry, Controlling Authorities, user agencies and other stakeholders to discuss and debate various policy and regulatory issues concerning the private security industry.

About FICCI

Established in 1927, FICCI is the largest and oldest apex business organisation in India. Its history is closely interwoven with India's struggle for independence, its industrialization, and its emergence as one of the most rapidly growing global economies.

A non-government, not-for-profit organisation, FICCI is the voice of India's business and industry. From influencing policy to encouraging debate, engaging with policy makers and civil society, FICCI articulates the views and concerns of industry. It serves its members from the Indian private and public corporate sectors and multinational companies, drawing its strength from diverse regional chambers of commerce and industry across states, reaching out to over 2,50,000 companies.

FICCI provides a platform for networking and consensus building within and across sectors and is the first port of call for Indian industry, policy makers and the international business community.
