

NURTURING AGRI INNOVATIONS

Conference & Awards for Innovations by Agri Startups

About the event

Agriculture augmentation through innovations is essential in order to bring it on to a competitive global footing as well as to meet the domestic consumption demand. FICCI believes that innovation in Indian Agriculture will be the game changer and carve out scalable solutions in taking the Agriculture sector to the next level.

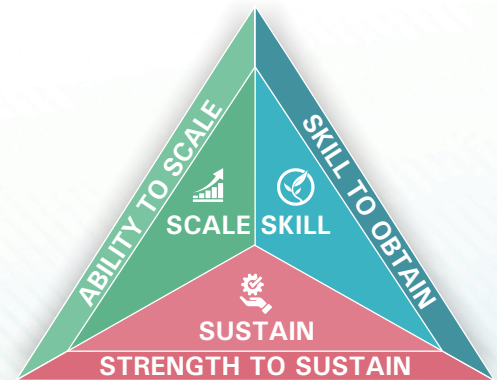

FICCI plans to organize a National Conference & Awards for Agri Startups in November 2018. The entire event will unfold in a phased manner wherein 4 months would be given for identification and screening of Agri startups. The best startups among the selected ones would be provided awards and acknowledgement at the National Conference in November 2018.

Event Benefits to Agri Startups

- Get a common voice & platform to interact with stakeholders of agri value chain
- Build network for access to financial capital through relationships with potential industry partners
- Gain insights from the experienced business consultants & management level executives
- Startups could provide potential offerings / business models as solutions to the industry veterans
- Platform for showcasing products & services and grab industrial guidance, mentoring and networking
