INTERNATIONAL CARGO BUSINESS SUMMIT 2026

International Cargo Summit 2026

The global air cargo sector is entering a strong phase of growth, driven by e-commerce expansion, higher demand for time-critical logistics, and shifting global supply chains. India's air cargo industry is projected to grow 6–9% annually till 2029, with Kerala emerging as a rising logistics hub.

CIAL, in partnership with FICCI, is organizing the International Cargo Summit 2026 to position Cochin International Airport as a leading gateway for global air cargo. The two-day summit will bring together airlines, regulators, freight forwarders, technology providers, industry associations, exporters, and importers for high-impact engagement.

Exhibitions

Experience innovations, solutions, and services shaping the future of cargo movement by key stake holders of the air cargo value chain, including regulatory bodies, airlines, logistics partners and technology providers.

Panel Discussions

Insightful sessions featuring Government authorities, airline operators, cargo alliances, freighter aircraft operators, customs stakeholders, and industry leaders.

B2B Meetings

Structured business meetings connecting freight forwarders, exporters, importers, airlines, and logistics service providers.

Fireside Networking

An informal networking space enabling meaningful conversations between industry leaders.
